

RISKED LIFE IN VAIN TO SAVE DOG

Mrs. Catherine Klinge Sprang in Front of Trolley Car When Animal Was in Peril and Was Seriously Hurt.

SAYS MOTORMAN WAS ALL TO BLAME.

He Made No Effort to Stop, It Is Declared, and Dog Was Ground to Death Under the Wheels.

Mrs. Catherine Klinge, of No. 112 "Y" avenue, the Bronx, is in a dangerous condition at her home today, suffering from a broken arm, which has swollen to such proportions that the surgeons are afraid to set it, as a result of a heroic attempt she made yesterday afternoon to save the life of a pet dog.

Mrs. Klinge was going to market, with her dog, a thoroughbred water spaniel, when the trolley car came in front of an approaching trolley-car and refused to budge. The motorman did not make any attempt to stop his car. In fact, it seemed to Mrs. Klinge that he increased the speed.

According to the motorman, the woman sprang forward in an attempt to reach the animal, but she slipped on the ice and fell within a few inches of the wheels of the car, beside the track, fracturing her right arm and receiving painful bruises. The dog was crushed under the car. An ambulance was summoned and the injured woman taken to her home.

Mr. Klinge, who remained at home with his wife today, said to an Evening World reporter that she was suffering as much from grief over the death of the dog as from her injuries.

Dog Was a Favorite.

"Two years ago," said Mr. Klinge, "my son, Emil, who is employed in the office of Taylor & Company, No. 4 Broadway, brought the water spaniel home with him. The dog belonged to the head bookkeeper, who was going abroad and asked Emil to keep her for him. We had her but a few months when she was the pet of the neighborhood. We taught her many tricks, among them one we called 'life saving.' My wife and the boys would take the dog to the Bronx kills, where they went bathing, and pretend to drown. Then Fanny would get out to them in remarkable fashion and endeavor to drag them to the surface.

"She actually did save two lives last summer. Two little girls, Lena Moran, of East One Hundred and Thirty-third street, and Annie Johnson, of East One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street, fell into the deep water at the bathing place on two successive days, and the plucky little dog went after and brought them safely to shore.

Waked up the Boarders.

"She was not only an intelligent dog, but a very valuable one, being a splendid specimen of the breed. She was taught to wake all the boarders in the house in the morning by going to their doors and barking until they were aroused.

"That the dog was a great favorite among the children in the neighborhood was evident, for while the Evening World reporter was at the house there was a continual string of youngsters coming to the place and inquiring for Fanny. What was left of the dog was placed in a box and this afternoon her little friends will bury her in solemn and mournful state.

POLICEMAN CLUBS BOY BURGLAR

Seventeen-Year-Old Youth Is Brought Into Court with Face Battered and Body Bruised—Held in $2,000 Bail.

Hugh Smith, seventeen years old, of No. 333 Third avenue, was held in the Harlem Police Court today in $2,000 bail for burglary. The boy's face was battered and covered with bruises as the result of an encounter he had with Policeman Caffery, of the East One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street station, early to-day, when he was discovered robbing a butcher shop.

Caffery was passing the shop of Albert Metzger, at No. 242 First avenue, when he noticed the door of the place open. He went inside and found two men engaged in cracking open the register.

Drawing his night stick he ordered the men to surrender. Instead, one seized a butcher's cleaver and the other a knife, and charged the policeman. He succeeded in beating down the Smith boy, but the other man made his escape. Caffery followed him to the car and shot at him twice, but he got away.

A Caffery had clubbed the boy into insensibility, but managed to revive him and take him to the police station. The "young prisoner" admitted his guilt.

STATESMEN MAY BE SCARCE.

Magistrate Crane Says Cigarettes Are Responsible.

"In thirty years there will be no statesmen in this country if the pernicious cigarette habit is not curbed," said Magistrate Crane in the Jefferson Market Court today as he committed Elias Wurm, twenty-three years old, of No. 15 Chestnut street, New Brighton, L. I., to jail on a charge of larceny. Wurm was arrested for falsifying the payroll of a Sixth avenue dry goods store where he was employed and stealing $50.

"I suppose you smoke cigarettes?" asked the magistrate.

"Yes," said Wurm.

Then the Magistrate let fall the above words of wisdom.

WOMAN WHO RISKED HER LIFE TO SAVE PET DOG FROM DEATH.

FIRE ENGINE AND TROLLEY COLLIDE SAY SERVANT GIRL STOLE FROM MANY

Car Is Forced from the Track and Traffic on Third and Second Avenues Blocked for Nearly an Hour.

A Second avenue trolley car crashed into Fire Engine No. 12 at Park Row and Pearl street to-day and knocked it against the curb. In rebounding the engine knocked the car from the track and tied up traffic both ways for almost an hour. Two men in the street were knocked down, and three firemen on the engine miraculously escaped injury.

The accident was due to the mistake of Motorman Dillmont in thinking the engine was returning slowly from the street front. The signal, instead, was for the car to stop until the engine crossed.

The engine was returning slowly from a small fire to the station at No. 361 William street. The car was not moving rapidly, but when the motorman got the signal from the driver he threw the lever wide open.

The car shot forward at full speed and the motorman saw his mistake too late. The engine struck the car, rebounded, and struck the front of the car, knocking it five feet off the track. The motorman was thrown twenty feet over the dashboard and stunned.

"MILLIONAIRE COP" SEEMS BANKRUPTCY

Sergt. John W. Vaughn Declares that Liabilities Are $6,261, While His Assets Amount to Only $991.

Sergt. John W. Vaughn, of the High-Brown police station, known in the department as the "Millionaire Cop," has filed a petition in bankruptcy. His financial difficulties, he says, are due to domestic troubles. His wife recently charged him with abandonment and non-support.

At the time he was arrested on the charge of abandonment, Vaughn astonished his friends and the Court by asserting that he had turned over to his wife the apartment house at No. 27 West One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street, valued at $35,000 and which yielded an income of $100 a month. He said he also had turned over to her his real estate business, which yielded about the same amount. The complaint was dismissed by Magistrate Crane.

Mrs. Vaughn later began suit for separation and asked for counsel fees and alimony. Her plea was refused by the lower courts, but an appeal was taken to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court and she was given a weekly allowance of $10 and payment of fees was ordered.

Vaughn, so his wife says, has kept out of his business since then, and it has not been possible to serve him with the order of the Court.

Patrolman Selig Whitman, known on the force as "Ajax," has also filed a petition in bankruptcy. He says his liabilities are $12,231 and his only assets are his strong arms. The creditors are Mrs. Vaughn and Nineteenth street, $300; Morris Aronson, of No. 28 West One Hundred and Eighteenth street, $150; and Moses Kahn, of No. 44 Canal street, $175.

Magistrate Crane said that he had no statesmen in this country if the pernicious cigarette habit is not curbed. He said that he had no statesmen in this country if the pernicious cigarette habit is not curbed. He said that he had no statesmen in this country if the pernicious cigarette habit is not curbed.

Magistrate Crane said that he had no statesmen in this country if the pernicious cigarette habit is not curbed.

Magistrate Crane said that he had no statesmen in this country if the pernicious cigarette habit is not curbed.

Magistrate Crane said that he had no statesmen in this country if the pernicious cigarette habit is not curbed.

WEDDING GUESTS AUNT WENT TO JAIL

Now Mrs. Davis, Who Was in the Party, Wants the Bowery Delmonico to Pay $5,000 for False Arrest.

FEAST BROKE UP IN A FIGHT.

Bridegroom Charged that He Had Been Robbed of His Money, and That Started the Row in the Restaurant.

It may be funny to be sued for $5,000 by a wedding guest for false arrest, because you had to have the police take the whole wedding party for a ride in the police patrol wagon, but "Mike" Lyons, the Bowery Delmonico, does not appreciate it apparently, as he sits gloomily to-day in Justice Cochrane's part of the Supreme Court.

Mrs. Davis is the guest who feels hurt $5,000 worth, and the whole Jack O'Brien's party is in court, with the exception of Jack himself and his bride of May 20, 1900.

Magistrate Crane, called for the defense, remembered all about having the bridal party of nine before him in the Essex Market Police Court next morning after the bridal supper at Lyons's, on the Bowery.

"They were charged with disorderly conduct," said the Magistrate, "and with failure to pay the bill of $43 for their wedding feast, and for fighting over it. I remember that I let them all go on their promise to pay the bill."

Thomas H. Raymond, a real estate broker, who occasionally visits Lyons's place and happens to be there on the night of O'Brien's wedding, added his story to that of other patrons about the local celebration.

"I went half-way up the stairs leading to the second floor and stood there for a good while of the scene," said Mr. Raymond.

"Everybody got bilious and happy. They started to dance, and then the bridegroom got so full he couldn't stand up. He was a real drunk and began counting it on his knee. Next he put up a row that he had been robbed."

Two of the guests had the head waiter up against the wall and I saw several punches made.

When Lyons insisted on a settlement of his bill for the supper, everybody against the woman was made by Oscar Kapinsky, proprietor of a jewelry store, and then the police came and took them to the police station.

Policeman John J. Gallagher, Doorman Frank Goodrich, and Matron Margaret Doyle, all of the Eldridge street station, all testified with great positiveness to the general impression that Jack O'Brien was a drunk when he was arrested.

James McGrane, one of the bridal party, testified in rebuttal by counsel for Mrs. Davis.

McGrane declared the party was not a drunken one, but a quiet party, suggested Mr. Tanner.

"Mr. I told O'Brien and his party they would have to be more quiet, and then the guests began to smash glasses. The bridegroom was a real drunk and began counting it on his knee. Next he put up a row that he had been robbed."

Two of the guests had the head waiter up against the wall and I saw several punches made.

When Lyons insisted on a settlement of his bill for the supper, everybody against the woman was made by Oscar Kapinsky, proprietor of a jewelry store, and then the police came and took them to the police station.

Policeman John J. Gallagher, Doorman Frank Goodrich, and Matron Margaret Doyle, all of the Eldridge street station, all testified with great positiveness to the general impression that Jack O'Brien was a drunk when he was arrested.

James McGrane, one of the bridal party, testified in rebuttal by counsel for Mrs. Davis.

McGrane declared the party was not a drunken one, but a quiet party, suggested Mr. Tanner.

"Mr. I told O'Brien and his party they would have to be more quiet, and then the guests began to smash glasses. The bridegroom was a real drunk and began counting it on his knee. Next he put up a row that he had been robbed."

Two of the guests had the head waiter up against the wall and I saw several punches made.

When Lyons insisted on a settlement of his bill for the supper, everybody against the woman was made by Oscar Kapinsky, proprietor of a jewelry store, and then the police came and took them to the police station.

Policeman John J. Gallagher, Doorman Frank Goodrich, and Matron Margaret Doyle, all of the Eldridge street station, all testified with great positiveness to the general impression that Jack O'Brien was a drunk when he was arrested.

James McGrane, one of the bridal party, testified in rebuttal by counsel for Mrs. Davis.

McGrane declared the party was not a drunken one, but a quiet party, suggested Mr. Tanner.

COP DEMANDED $10, YOUNG WOMAN SAYS

Mrs. Lizzie Hoffman When Arraigned in the Yorkville Court Makes an Accusation Against Policeman Galvin.

MAGISTRATE SET HER FREE.

She Declared that the Officer Attempted to Wrest a Bracelet from Her Wrist, but He Vigorously Denied Her Entire Story.

When Policeman Edward Galvin, of the East Twenty-second street station, arraigned a pretty young woman, who described herself as Mrs. Lizzie Hoffman, of No. 24 East Twenty-fifth street, in the Yorkville Court to-day on a charge of soliciting, the prisoner told a story about her arrest that caused Magistrate Crane to make a searching inquiry before dismissing the case.

Galvin, who has been on the force only three months and in plain clothes only a week, said that he had arrested the young woman at Lexington avenue and Twenty-fifth street last night after he had popped two men. Then the young woman spoke up in her own defense.

"Your Honor," she said, "it is true that at one time I led a wayward life, but I have reformed and am married and respectable. Last night as I was returning to my home from the doctor's office this policeman came up to me and said that unless I gave him $10 he would place me under arrest."

"I replied that I had done nothing to be arrested for, and said also that I did not have $10 to give him. Then he pointed to a gold bracelet on my wrist and said: 'Well, give me that. I told you I would take it off my wrist as I tried to take the bracelet off. It was on too tight. Then I was thoroughly frightened and told him that if he would come to my home I would get the key to unlock it.'

"He said he would not do that, and then pointed to my wedding ring and asked: 'Is that Third avenue gold or real gold?' I said it was real gold, but that nothing would persuade me to part with it. Then he placed me under arrest and took me to the police station."

The young woman told her story in a straightforward manner, and Magistrate Crane called upon the policeman for explanations. Galvin said that he had offered her him her bracelet as security for $10 she promised to give him to-day if he would not arrest her. As he had seen her violating the law, he said, he immediately placed her under arrest.

A Good Word for Her.

"I will have to investigate this matter," said Magistrate Crane, "and summoned Miss Alice Smith, the prosecuting officer attached to the court. Miss Smith said that she had seen the young woman before when she had been arrested on a similar charge. She had then been requested to keep watch upon the girl and had done so. As far as she had learned the woman had been leading a respectable life."

Then Magistrate Crane called up Capt. Gallagher of the East Twenty-second street station, and asked him about Policeman Galvin. The captain said that the policeman had been on the force only three months and as far as he knew was an honest young man. Magistrate Crane would not say whether or not he would go any further in the investigation of the young woman's story.

Magistrate Crane called upon the policeman for explanations. Galvin said that he had offered her him her bracelet as security for $10 she promised to give him to-day if he would not arrest her. As he had seen her violating the law, he said, he immediately placed her under arrest.

A Good Word for Her.

"I will have to investigate this matter," said Magistrate Crane, "and summoned Miss Alice Smith, the prosecuting officer attached to the court. Miss Smith said that she had seen the young woman before when she had been arrested on a similar charge. She had then been requested to keep watch upon the girl and had done so. As far as she had learned the woman had been leading a respectable life."

Then Magistrate Crane called up Capt. Gallagher of the East Twenty-second street station, and asked him about Policeman Galvin. The captain said that the policeman had been on the force only three months and as far as he knew was an honest young man. Magistrate Crane would not say whether or not he would go any further in the investigation of the young woman's story.

Magistrate Crane called upon the policeman for explanations. Galvin said that he had offered her him her bracelet as security for $10 she promised to give him to-day if he would not arrest her. As he had seen her violating the law, he said, he immediately placed her under arrest.

A Good Word for Her.

"I will have to investigate this matter," said Magistrate Crane, "and summoned Miss Alice Smith, the prosecuting officer attached to the court. Miss Smith said that she had seen the young woman before when she had been arrested on a similar charge. She had then been requested to keep watch upon the girl and had done so. As far as she had learned the woman had been leading a respectable life."

Then Magistrate Crane called up Capt. Gallagher of the East Twenty-second street station, and asked him about Policeman Galvin. The captain said that the policeman had been on the force only three months and as far as he knew was an honest young man. Magistrate Crane would not say whether or not he would go any further in the investigation of the young woman's story.

Magistrate Crane called upon the policeman for explanations. Galvin said that he had offered her him her bracelet as security for $10 she promised to give him to-day if he would not arrest her. As he had seen her violating the law, he said, he immediately placed her under arrest.

A Good Word for Her.

"I will have to investigate this matter," said Magistrate Crane, "and summoned Miss Alice Smith, the prosecuting officer attached to the court. Miss Smith said that she had seen the young woman before when she had been arrested on a similar charge. She had then been requested to keep watch upon the girl and had done so. As far as she had learned the woman had been leading a respectable life."

Then Magistrate Crane called up Capt. Gallagher of the East Twenty-second street station, and asked him about Policeman Galvin. The captain said that the policeman had been on the force only three months and as far as he knew was an honest young man. Magistrate Crane would not say whether or not he would go any further in the investigation of the young woman's story.

Magistrate Crane called upon the policeman for explanations. Galvin said that he had offered her him her bracelet as security for $10 she promised to give him to-day if he would not arrest her. As he had seen her violating the law, he said, he immediately placed her under arrest.

A Good Word for Her.

"I will have to investigate this matter," said Magistrate Crane, "and summoned Miss Alice Smith, the prosecuting officer attached to the court. Miss Smith said that she had seen the young woman before when she had been arrested on a similar charge. She had then been requested to keep watch upon the girl and had done so. As far as she had learned the woman had been leading a respectable life."

BIBLICAL TEXT WORRIED WAITER

"The Way of the Transgressor Is Hard" Stared Him in the Face and He Confesses He's an Embezzler.

ADMITS HE STOLE $60.

Judd S. Muckle Asks Police to Send Him Back to Davenport, Ia., so He May Be Punished for His Theft.

Two weeks' work as a waiter in a Park Row restaurant, where Biblical texts adorn the walls, disgusted Judd Sherman Muckle and made him repent. He walked into the Detective Bureau at Police Headquarters to-day, announced he was a fugitive from Davenport, Ia., and requested to be sent back there.

"What are you wanted there for?" inquired Sergt. Morris.

"I stole $60 from the Western Union telegraph office there, last August," Muckle replied.

"I came to New York to see the sights. When the money was spent, I got work as a waiter in a restaurant." Detective-Sergeant Aufken arraigned the wayward youth to-day before Magistrate Breen in the Centre Street Court.

"Why do you want to go back?" asked the Magistrate.

"Well," replied Muckle, "it's this way. The Bible I waited on in the restaurant was under the Bible text of 'The Way of the Transgressor Is Hard.' I got thinking of this, and it has preyed on my mind night and day."

At the request of the detective Magistrate Breen remanded Muckle to the Tombs until the Davenport authorities can be communicated with.

Actor Neglected Alimony.

W. H. Sloane, a variety actor, now performing in Brooklyn, was arrested to-day on complaint of his wife, Daisy Thompson, a chorus girl, who charged him with failing to pay her a weekly allowance of $20 awarded her by the courts nine weeks ago, when she began an action for divorce against him.

Sloane had no excuses to make when arraigned before Magistrate Crane in the Jefferson Market Police Court. Miss Thompson, who said her maiden name was Katherine Madden O'Brien, said that Sloane earned $350 a week, but that she had received but $50 from him in nine weeks.

Sloane promised to pay his wife $15 a week and was allowed to go.

Service— the Most Helpful is Telephone Service

NEW YORK TELEPHONE COMPANY

15 Day Street

ANDERSON PIANO, $250.

is yours for music and standard of quality.

ANDERSON & CO.,

270 FULTON ST., BROOKLYN.

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

25c

GOLD WEATHER ACHES
YIELD QUICKLY TO
SLOAN'S LINIMENT
IT KILLS PAIN
The time tested family remedy proved the best.
ALL DEALERS 25c.

GAS
You'll find a
Gas Heater
in the Bath Room
Satisfactory and Convenient.

GAS
Scherer
FOTOGRAPHER
Artistic Photographs
High-class work, polite service and low prices are responsible for our success.
Imperial Folder Platinum Photographs, $5.00 per dozen. This is the most up-to-date style and finish. No better photos can be had anywhere at any price.

STUDIOS:
New York: 22 West 23d St., Bet. 5th & 6th Ave., 1162 Broadway, Near 27th St.
Brooklyn: 489 Fulton St., Opp. Abraham & Straube.

ROYAL FURNITURE CO.
3 ROOMS FURNISHED AT 49.98
CASH OR CREDIT.
4 ROOMS FURNISHED AT 75.00
WRITE FOR LIST OF GOODS.
4 ROOMS FURNISHED AT 99.98
10% Allowed for Cash
Two Special Apartments
At $150 and $200 Each.
We deliver free within 50 miles of City.
2188-2190-2192
THIRD AV. Bet. 119-120 Sts.
Open evenings until 9 o'clock.

Rexall
D-Y-S-P-E-P-S-I-A.
RIKER'S DRUG STORE,
6th Ave. & 23d St.
OUR NEW YORK ADDRESS:
HEGEMAN & CO., a corporation, 200 Broadway, 2nd floor, between 12th and 13th Sts., and 34 Ave.
KIDNEY & DRUG STORES, 125th St. and 8th Ave., 601 8th Ave.
J. JUNKMAN, Drugist, 1020 3d Ave., 42d St.

"Short Stop" STOPS Coughing
Every Drugist sells "Short Stop."
New York's Best Family Cough Medicine
CURES ANY COLD.
Balance Weekly or Monthly Payments.
COLUMBIA GRAPHOPHONE, DISC OR CYLINDER.
25,000 Columbia Gold Moulded Records, 25c each, 20c in lots.
EHRICH BROTHERS,
6TH AV. and 23D ST., NEW YORK.
SUNDAY WORLD WANTS WORK.
MONDAY MORNING WONDERS.

Write for Illustrated Catalogue.
CASPERFELD & CLEVELAND
ESTABLISHED 1871.
144 BOWERY,
"Bowery Savings Bank Block."
Bet. Grand and Broome Sts., north of Grand St. Station, west side of street.

PRE-INVENTORY BARGAINS
DIAMOND Engagement Ring. Pure white diamond; very brilliant; Tiffany setting; 11-16 karat.... $65
Tooth Ring, 3/4 karat; fine blue white sparkling gem, perfectly set. This setting shows stone to great advantage. Actual value, $55; our price.... $37
Gentleman's Solid 14-karat Gold Watch, genuine Waltham movement; worth $40; our price.... $25

WEDDING RINGS.
C&CMBK
Solid 14 and 18 kara. gold seamless Wedding Rings our Specialty.
Prices $2.50 to $15.
Quality Guaranteed.
No Extra Charge for Lettering.
Open Evenings till 7. SATURDAYS till 10.
Mail Orders Filled. Inquiries Solicited.

FOR THIN CHEEKS.
The three requisites of facial beauty are ROUNDED FEATURES, absence of wrinkles and a fine complexion.
Nothing can hide the deformity of thin, sunken cheeks, an ugly arm, a scrawny hand or the absence of a bust.
Dr. Charles Flesh Food
has been used by thousands of ladies for the past twenty-five years, and our large business is due to the endorsement of one satisfied patron to another. WE KNOW that Dr. Charles Flesh Food will create FIRM, HEALTHY FLESH wherever it is applied. It acts by absorption through the pores. Nothing to take internally. Applied as an ointment.

SPECIAL OFFER.
The regular price of Dr. Charles Flesh Food is $1.00 a box, but to-day we have decided to send two 25-cent boxes to all who answer this advertisement and send us $1.00. All packages are sent in plain wrapper, postage prepaid.
We will be sent free for 10 cents, which pays for cost of material. We will send you our illustrated book "Art of Massage," which contains all the proper movements for massaging the body, and also the full directions for developing the bust. Address DR. CHARLES CO., New York.

ARE all your days and all your money lost by advertising in poor mediums?
YOU have no excuse. World Wants bring you the desired results. We show that the majority of advertisers are SATISFIED continue to use this valuable medium to secure their help.

This